New York, Sept. 9.—Not a church

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION MORE SATISFACTORY.

Late Bulletins From the Sick Chamber of the Wounded President Are Encouraging.

Physicians State That Untoward Incidents Are Less Likely to Occur.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The following bulletin was issued by the physicians at 2 o'clock. The president's condition is becoming more and more satisfactory. Untoward incidents are less likely to occur.
Pulse 122; temperature 100; respiration 28.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—Through the day every word that came from the big vine-clad house in Delaware avenue in which the stricken chief magistrate of the nation lies battling for life was reassuring and the chances of his recovery are so greatly improved that all of those who have kept the patient vigil at his bedside feel strongly that his life will be spared. The developments of the last 24 hours were dreaded, but hour after hour passed and the distinguished patient, struggling there beneath the watchful eyes of physicians and trained nurses, showed not an unfavorable symptom. Several times during the day the eminent doctors and surgeons assembled for consultation and each time the verdict was unanimous that what change had occurred was for the better. Not the slightest premonitory symptom of peritonitis appeared and the fresh bore born with the morning grew stronger and stronger as the day advanced until the confidence expressed in the president's recovery seemed almost too sanguine. It is not strange that the vice president and other distinguished visitors who called came away with lighter hearts and buoyant tread and gave expression to the most optimistic sentiments.

The encouraging news spread over the exposition city with great rapidity and thousands came in carriages, in street cars and on foot to learn for themselves of the faith and confidence that existed about the Milburn house. The brightness of the day, with its cool, bracing atmosphere, only added to the general cheerfulness, and the crowd about 6 o'clock shouting
"Extra. The president will live," it was with difficulty that they could suppress the shouts of thanksgiving that rose in their throats.

Not Yet Out of Danger.
And yet, despite all this optimism, the president is by no means out of danger. Not one of his physicians, not one of his advisors who is admitted to the inner councils has the temerity to go so far as to declare that he is.
But if he continues to improve for one more day the danger of peritonitis, which is most dreaded, will have practically disappeared.

That disposed of, still other complications may arise. Blood poisoning might set in, or an abscess form where the bullet is imbedded in the muscles of the back. Thus far the ball of the assassin, which is still in the body, gives the physicians no anxiety. But if the slightest inflammation appears in the region of the lead it will be extracted. No difficulty is expected in this regard. One of Edison's best X-ray machines and his most skilled and trusted operator, Dr. H. A. Knolls, arrived during the day. The batteries were charged and the machine is ready for instant use. With it the physicians say there is not the slightest doubt that the ball can be located perfectly for an operation. They do not deem it advisable to sap any of the president's strength at this time. All his reserve force is needed now to resist the danger of peritonitis and septic poisoning. Besides, if inflammation does not set in around the bullet, it will soon become encrusted.

All the effects of the ether which was administered when the operation was performed on the exposition grounds, had disappeared during the morning and the president's mind was perfectly clear during the time that he was awake.

Enjoys Natural Sleep.
During the day for the first time he enjoyed natural sleep. While he was still more or less under the influence of the anesthetic his slumber was restless and disturbed and did him little real good, but between 9 and 4 o'clock he had the repose of natural sleep for about four hours and the physicians stated unofficially that his sleep had been "quiet and restful" and had helped the sufferer a great deal. Also for the first time nourishment was administered. It was in liquid form and was injected hypodermically in order to avoid the possibility of irritating the walls of the stomach. The exterior wound was dressed and is progressing satisfactorily. All day the members of the cabinet and others associated with the president in public life came solicitously and went away almost jubilantly, all reflecting the hopeful outlook at the Milburn house. Vice President Roosevelt and Senator Hanna came away together and gave expression to the most confident and encouraging sentiments. The vice president not only shared the cheerful feeling, but was extremely optimistic.

Both gentlemen claimed that the president's favorable condition was even understated by the physicians, through motives of conservatism. Even those most prominent in public life did not see the president, as the doctors would not relax the ironclad rule they have laid down to prevent the least drain upon his energies and vitality. Those who came and went moved silently and reverently, receiving the latest statements from the doctors and departing.

Many Messages Received.
Almost every government in the world has been heard from, most of the crowned heads of Europe sending personal messages. Among the latter are King Edward, Emperor William, the kings of Portugal, Italy and Sweden and the sultan of Turkey. President Loubet of the republic of France has also cabled his sympathy direct.

One of the most touching messages thus far received was from Madame Lalor, the wife of Maitre Lalor, who defended Dreyfus in his famous trial at Rennes.

The interest in the president's condition was such across the Canadian border that the Associated Press was asked to furnish a bulletin in the morning to be read in the churches in Quebec and Montreal, and many requests of a similar character came direct to Secretary Cortelyou from different parts of the United States. The messages of sympathy from all over the United States and all over the world, in fact, have fairly overwhelmed Secretary Cortelyou. Two more White House stenographers have been sent for.

Mrs. McKinley continues to bear up bravely and her fortitude is regarded as remarkable. One of her dearest and closest friends, Mrs. Rand of Washington, has arrived here and will probably remain with her during this trying period.

POLES ARE INDIGNANT.
Claim That Czolgosz Is Not of Their Nationality.

New York, Sept. 9.—An indignation meeting attended by about 500 Poles, of which it is estimated there are 80,000 in New York city, was held at the Church of St. Stanislaus and bitter words of denunciation of Czolgosz and his crime were uttered, while the expression of sympathy for the president and those belonging to him was warm and universal. Doubt as to the nationality of the would-be assassin was expressed and it was decided to send a delegate to Cleveland and Toledo at once to look into his ancestry and to prove to the American people that he is not a Pole but a Russian by descent.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Four hundred Polish-Americans gathered in St.
Laurentius' Roman Catholic church passed resolutions deploring the shooting of President McKinley and protested against the statements that the would-be assassin was connected with the Polish people in this country.
Among those present were five Polish priests.

ENGLISHMEN REJOICE.

Favorable Reports of President's Condition Brings Relief.

London, Sept. 9.—Genuine relief pervades England over the favorable reports regarding President McKin-ley's condition and the prospects of his recovery. His personality continues to absorb the country's sympathy and interest. Were King Edward lying wounded popular feeling could not be stronger and deeper. Prayers for the recovery of Mr. McKinley were offered up in hundreds of British churches Sunday, notably St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey and Canterbury cathedral. At the Rev. F. B. Meyers' church in London, where there was a large attendance, including many Americans, the congregation rose and passed a resolution of sympathy. The prayers offered in little country churches such as that at Beaches Field, where Mr. Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, resides, lacked none of the sincerity and impressiveness of those delivered in the great edifices before large congregations.

Artificial Propagation of Oysters
by Professor Ryder.

A SIMPLE METHOD EMPLOYED.

Importance of Discovery Lies in Hope That It May Be Used Extensively For Propagating Bivalves
So as to Perpetuate the Species,
Now Menaced by Overfishing.

Oyster making is the latest industry.
Experiments of a remarkable character have been made recently in the artificial propagation of oysters by Professor John A. Ryder of Johns Hopkins university and other scientists. Some of the results obtained are most timely just now, says the New York Herald, as another oyster season is upon us.

Under natural conditions the eggs and milt of spawning oysters are simply set free in the water of a river or bay and are allowed to take their chances of coming together. The chance is so small that probably not more than one egg in a million is fertilized, and thus 999,999 possible oysters are lost for every one that is hatched. When the new method outlined by these scientists is adopted, on the other hand, 90 per cent of the eggs, it is estimated, are impregnated and hatched. It only remains then to liberate the baby bivalves thus brought into the world by incubator process under circumstances that will conduce to their survival.

Now, the possibilities in the case may be faintly realized when it is explained that a single female oyster in one season's spawning will "lay," if she be of average size, about 16,000-600 eggs, while a large specimen will produce 30,000,000 or 40,000,000. The eggs are microscopic in size, and an ordinary tumbler of sea water will easily hold 100,000 of the infant mol-lusks, waiting only for a suitable opportunity to grow to table size and to be served raw on the half shell or fried in crumbs or in stews.

The idea of "assisting" the bivalves was first attempted in a crude way by chopping up the reproductive organs of male and female oysters together in a vessel of water. By such means the eggs and milt were liberated, and the former were fertilized, but a great many of the eggs were destroyed incidentally, and much foreign matter was introduced into the mixture.

The new way is to take an oyster and open it so that the animal lies on the deep shell. Then, with an ordinary glass pipette, such as is used for an eye dropper, stroke its upper surface gently, away from its hinges. This, if the mollusk is ready to spawn, will cause it to pour out a fluid which, in case the oyster is female, will be full of microscopic eggs. A few drops of this fluid, taken up by the pipette, are put into a tumbler of sea water, and,
a drop or two of liquid similarly obtained from the male oyster being added, fertilization of the eggs is immediately accomplished.

A couple of hours later nearly all of the eggs will have hatched, and you will have in the tumbler many thousands of young oysters. For a couple of days they are free swimming animals, paddling about with the aid of tiny hairlike appendages called "cilia," and then they are ready to settle down for life and attach themselves permanently to some solid object.

It is this free swimming stage of their career that is so perilous to oysters under natural conditions, inasmuch as countless numbers are devoured by fishes and even by adults of their own species, while a great majority of those that survive such dangers eventually perish through being unable to find any suitable spot where they may settle down. It does not matter to the young oyster whether he settles upon a rock, an old boot or a bottle, but he must be out of the mud, which will suffocate him if it flows over him.

The newly hatched oyster is already inclosed in a bivalve shell, composed of a glassy substance and provided with a hinge. After it settles down and begins to grow its true limy shell this larval case remains attached to the latter and is eventually worn off.
In establishing itself on a rock or other suitable object the animal always lies on its left side—that is to say, on the deep shell. It is not obliged to move around after that because its food, which consists of very minute organisms, both animal and vegetable, is brought to it by a current of water which is kept continually flowing through the shell, thanks to the action of the vibratory "cilia" attached to the mantle.

The method employed by Professor Ryder is so simple that anybody can practice it for himself with the help of a small amount of instruction from an expert. The importance of it as a discovery lies in the hope that it may be utilized in a large way for propagating oysters, with a view to perpetuating the species, which at the present time is seriously threatened by overfishing.

Even the beds of the Chesapeake, which furnish twice as many oysters as are produced by all foreign countries put together, are becoming alarmingly depleted.

Appropriations by Navies.

Naval appropriations for the present fiscal year, chiefly for construction, are stated as follows: England, $149,- 755,020, an increase of over $10,000,000 as compared with last year; France, $63,244,658; Russia, $50,005,297, an increase of over $5,000,000; Germany, $46,822,732; Italy, $23,703,595; Japan, $18,557,623, and Spain, $3,800,000.

AMEND THE CONSTITUTION.

Congressman Pearce Would Make Attacks on President Treason.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 9.—In discussing the attempted assassination of President McKinley, Congressman
George A. Pearce of Maryland said:
"I will offer a bill in the next congress of the United States amending the Constitution so as to make an unsuccessful attempt on the life of the president of the nation treason and punishable by the penalty of death.
The man who strikes at the nation's head is a public enemy and should be treated as such."

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION OF

Attack on the Chief Executive De-said that this was a case where lynching seemed justifiable.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—In every pulpit in Chicago Sunday denunciation of anarchy and its followers was the theme of the morning sermon. The indignation and horror of the people at the attempt on the president's life seemed to have frozen even Christian charity, for the prayers for the speedy recovery of the chief executive were followed by stirring demands in sermons that anarchy be stamped out so effectually that not a vestige be left.

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—By order of Archbishop Ireland all the Catholic churches in St. Paul had special readings and prayers for President McKinley Sunday morning. In most of the Protestant churches the pastors ad-verted to the attempted tragedy and deplored what was designated a wanton and motiveless crime.

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—Prayers for President McKinley were said in churches of all denominations and many clergymen referred from the pulpit to the anarchist's deed, declaring it to have been a thrust at the government.

TO USE DRASTIC MEASURES.

Mayor Harrison Will Suppress Revolutionary Speech

Chicago, Sept. 9.—There will be no more revolutionary speeches in public in Chicago if the police can prevent them. The edict has gone forth from Mayor Harrison and Superintendent of Police O'Neill that such utterances must be stopped, and the latter has sent special orders to the commanding officers of the various districts to detail men to be in attendance at all meetings that are supposed to be of an anarchistic origin and to arrest the speakers if violent language is used.

Chief O'Neill's order is the result of a conference that he had with Mayor Harrison. Information to the effect that Leon Czolgosz, the Buffalo assassin, received part of his anarchistic education in Chicago and that he was one of those who attended the meetings at which Emma Goldman and other anarchist leaders spoke in this city, coupled with the experience of the mayor's own family, led Mr. Harrison to decide on drastic measures in dealing with the radicals. From this time on anarchists will have to be temperate in the language they use in this city if they do not wish to be thrown into jail.

PRASE FOR CZOLGOSZ.

Anarchists at McKeesport, Pa., Celebrate Attack on McKinley.

McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 9.—Two hundred Italian anarchists celebrated President McKinley's attempted assassination at Guffey Hollow, a mining hamlet. Beer, whisky, speeches, songs and prayers for Czolgosz were the order of the day. This is one of the largest anarchist groups in the country. It was started and led for years by Garcia Ciomavilla, now living at Spring Valley, Ill., and editor of The Firebrand, the anarchist organ of Chicago. When Bresci assassinated King Humbert he declared that Mc-Kinley would be the next victim of the anarchist plots.

DENOUNCED BY THE P.O.E.

His Holiness Displays Deep Emotion on Hearing of Attack on McKinley.

London, Sept. 9.—Queen Margherita, upon hearing the news of the attempt upon the life of President Mc-Kinley, says the Rome correspondent of The Daily News, with tears in her eyes, said:

"These things come hardest on the women, and at least poor Mrs. Mc-Kinley, in her state of health, should have been spared."

The pope, The Daily News' correspondent says, also displayed deep emotion, exclaiming:

"Oh, how earnestly I pray that he may escape with his life. These violent crimes are the curse of our day.
I can only offer the afflicted victim and his poor wife my humble prayers."

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION MORE SATISFACTORY.

Late Bulletins From the Sick Chamber of the Wounded President Are Encouraging.

Less Likely to Occur.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The following bulletin was issued by the physicians at 2 o'clock. The president's condition is becoming more
and more satisfactory. Untoward
incidents are less likely to occur.
Pulse 122; temperature 100; respiration 28.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—Through the day
every word that came from the big
vine-clad house in Delaware avenue
reassuring and the chances of his recovery are so greatly improved that
vigil at his bedside feel strongly that
his life will be spared. The developments of the last 24 hours were dreaded, but hour after hour passed and the distinguished patient, struggling
times during the day the eminent doctors and surgeons assembled for consultation and each time the verdict
was unanimous that what change had
slightest premonitory symptom of
peritonitis appeared and the fresh hope born with the morning grew stronger and stronger as the day ad-
in the president's recovery seemed almost too sanguine. It is not strange
that the vice president and other dis-
tread and gave expression to the most optimistic sentiments.

the exposition city with great rapidity
and thousands came in carriages,
in street cars and on foot to learn for
themselves of the faith and confidence that existed about the Milburn
house. The brightness of the day,
added to the general cheerfulness, and when a score of newsmen darted into the crowd about 6 o'clock shouting
"Extra. The president will live," it was with difficulty that they could
that rose in their throats.

Not Yet Out of Danger.

And yet, despite all this optimism,
the president is by no means out of danger. Not one of his physicians,
not one of his advisors who is admitted to the inner councils has the temerity to go so far as to declare that he is.
But if he continues to improve for
one more day the danger of peritonitis,

That disposed of, still other complications may arise. Blood poisoning might set in, or an abscess form where
the bullet is imbedded in the muscles
of the back. Thus far the ball of the
assassin, which is still in the body,
if the slightest inflammation appears
in the region of the lead it will be extracted. No difficulty is expected in this regard. One of Edison's best X-ray machines and his most skilled
and trusted operator, Dr. H. A. Knolls, arrived during the day. The batteries
were charged and the machine is ready
for instant use. With it the physicians say there is not the slightest
doubt that the ball can be located perfectly for an operation. They do not
resist the danger of peritonitis and
septic poisoning. Besides, if inflammation does not set in around the bullet, it will soon become encrusted.

was administered when the operation
was performed on the exposition
grounds, had disappeared during the morning and the president's mind was
perfectly clear during the time that he was awake.

Enjoys Natural Sleep.

During the day for the first time he
of the anaesthetic his slumber was restless and destroyed and did him little real good, but between 9 and 4 o'clock he had the solace of natural slumber for about four hours and the physicians stated unofficially that his
sleep had been "quiet and restful"
deal. Also for the first time nourishment was administered. It was in
liquid form and was injected hypo-

stomach. The exterior wound was dressed and is progressing satisfactorily. All day the members of the
the president in public life came solicitously and went away almost jubly, all reflecting the hopeful outlook at the Milburn house. Vice President Roosevelt and Senator Hanna came away together and gave expression to the most confident and encouraging sentiments. The vice president not only shared the cheerful
feeling, but was extremely optimistic.
Both gentlemen claimed that the presi-
understated by the physicians, through
relax the ironclad rule they have
upon his energies and vitality. Those
and reverently, receiving the latest
statements from the doctors and departing.

Many Messages Received.

personal messages. Among the latter
are King Edward, Emperor William,
the kings of Portugal, Italy and Sweden and the sultan of Turkey. President Loubet of the republic of France has also called his sympathy direct.
One of the most touching messages
thus far received was from Madame Lalor, the wife of Maitre Lalor, who
defended Dreyfus in his famous trial
at Rennes.

The interest in the president's condition was such across the Canadian
morning to be read in the churches in Quebec and Montreal, and many requests of a similar character came direct to Secretary Cortelyou from different parts of the United States. The
the world, in fact, have fairly overwhelmed Secretary Cortelyou. Two
been sent for.

Mrs. McKinley continues to bear up
bravely and her fortitude is regarded as remarkable. One of her dearest and closest friends, Mrs. Rand of Washington, has arrived here and will probably remain with her during this
trying period.

POLES ARE INDIGNANT.

Nationality.

New York, Sept. 9.—An indignation
meeting attended by about 500 Poles,
of which it is estimated there are 80,000 in New York city, was held at the Church of St. Stanislaus and bit-
and his crime were uttered, while the
expression of sympathy for the president and those belonging to him was
nationality of the would-be assassin
was expressed and it was decided to send a delegate to Cleveland and Toledo at once to look into his ancestry
and to prove to the American people
that he is not a Pole but a Russian by
descent.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Four hundred Polish-Americans gathered in St.
Laurentius' Roman Catholic church
passed resolutions deploring the
with the Polish people in this country.
Among those present were five Polish
priests.

ENGLISHMEN REJOICE.

Favorable Reports of President's Condition Brings Relief.

pervades England over the favorable reports regarding President Mc-Kinley's condition and the prospects of his recovery. His personality continues to absorb the country's sympathy
and interest. Were King Edward lying wounded popular feeling could not be stronger and deeper. Prayers for the recovery of Mr. McKinley were
offered up in hundreds of British
churches Sunday, notably St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey and Canterbury
cathedral. At the Rev. F. B. Meyers'
church in London, where there was a
prayers offered in little country
churches such as that at Beaches
Field, where Mr. Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy,
and impressiveness of those delivered
in the great edifices before large congregations.

Artificial Propagation of Oysters
by Professor Ryder.

A SIMPLE METHOD EMPLOYED.

Hope That It May Be Used Extensively For Propagating Bivalves
So as to Perpetuate the Species,
Now Menaced by Overfishing.

Oyster making is the latest industry.
Experiments of a remarkable character have been made recently in the artificial propagation of oysters by Professor John A. Ryder of Johns Hopkins university and other scientists. Some of the results obtained are most timely just now, says the
season is upon us.

Under natural conditions the eggs
and milt of spawning oysters are simply set free in the water of a river or
bay and are allowed to take their
chance is so small that probably not
more than one egg in a million is fertilized, and thus 999,999 possible oysters are lost for every one that is
hatched. When the new method out-
the other hand, 99 per cent of the eggs, it is estimated, are impregnated
liberate the baby bivalves thus
process under circumstances that will conduce to their survival.

Now, the possibilities in the case
may be faintly realized when it is ex-
one season's spawning will "lay" if
she be of average size, about 16,000, 000 eggs, while a large specimen will
eggs are microscopic in size, and an
easily hold 100,000 of the infant mol-lusks, waiting only for a suitable op-
fried in crumbs or in stews.

The idea of "assisting" the bivalves
was first attempted in a crude way by
chopping up the reproductive organs
the former were fertilized, but a great many of the eggs were destroyed incidentally, and much foreign matter
was introduced into the mixture.

and open it so that the animal lies on
case the oyster is female, will be full of microscopic eggs. A few drops of
this fluid, taken up by the pipette, are
put into a tumbler of sea water, and,
a drop or two of liquid similarly obtained from the male oyster being
added, fertilization of the eggs is immediately accomplished.

will have in the tumbler many thousands of young oysters. For a couple of days they are free swimming animals, paddling about with the aid of
tiny hairlike appendages called "cilia,"
and then they are ready to settle
permanently to some solid object.

It is this free swimming stage of
their career that is so perilous to oysters under natural conditions, inas-
much as countless numbers are de-

dangers eventually perish through being unable to find any suitable spot
where they may settle down. It does not matter to the young oyster wheth-
or a bottle, but he must be out of the mud, which will suffocate him if it flows over him.

inclosed in a bivalve shell, composed
and begins to grow its true limy shell
the latter and is eventually worn off.
In establishing itself on a rock or other
suitable object the animal always
lies on its left side—that is to say, on
the deep shell. It is not obliged to
move around after that because its
food, which consists of very minute organisms, both animal and vegetable, is brought to it by a current of water which is kept continually flowing through the shell, thanks to the action of the vibratory "cilia" attached to the mantle.

The method employed by Professor Ryder is so simple that anybody can
discovery lies in the hope that it may be utilized in a large way for propagating oysters, with a view to perpetuating the species, which at the present time is seriously threatened by overfishing.

Even the beds of the Chesapeake,
which furnish twice as many oysters
tries put together, are becoming
alarmingly depleted.

as compared with last year; France, $63,244,658; Russia, $50,065,297, an increase of over $5,000,000; Germany,

$18,557,623, and Spain, $3,860,000.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 9.—In discussing the attempted assassination
of President McKinley, Congressman
George A. Pearce of Maryland said:
"I will offer a bill in the next congress of the United States amending
president of the nation treason and
punishable by the penalty of death.

BREATHES HER LAST IN FATHER'S ARMS.

Sudden Demise of Little Margretta Baker Casts a Gloom Over City.

THE FATHER SWOONS AWAY, And for a Time His Life Was Despaired of—Heart Trouble the Cause.

One of the saddest deaths in some time occurred yesterday morning about 7:30 o'clock when Margretta Baker, the nine-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker, passed away very suddenly and without warning in her father's arms.

The little girl had complained some Saturday evening, but the parents of the child did not think there was anything serious the matter and as she felt all right at bed time no doctor was called. About 7:15 Sunday morning she awoke and came to her father, complaining that she felt badly. Mr. Baker, who is particularly enamored with the little girl, picked her up in his arms with affectionate solicitude, not thinking even then that there was anything the matter. He had no more than nestled her to his bosom when the little one gave a gasp and reclining her head backward on his arm breathed her last.

Mr. Baker was completely overcome with the sudden shock and swooned away himself. A physician was at once summoned, and so overcome was the father that it was nearly two hours before he regained consciousness. Realizing that nothing could be done for the little girl the attention of the physician was directed to Mr. Baker. For a time it was thought that he would not recover, but he came to finally and this morning, although still very much grieved and overcome, was feeling some better.

The attending physician states that it was heart failure coupled with symptoms of diphtheria, which caused the death.

It is a very sad case, Margretta being a particularly bright child. All day Saturday she was in the best of spirits and showed no sign of sickness and it was not until the young life passed out that the seriousness of the situation was realized. She was a particularly loving little girl and it is a great shock to both father and mother.

Relatives in the east were telegraphed the details of the sudden taking off, but this morning another telegram was sent stating that it would be no use to come to Brainerd as the funeral, on account of the contagion, would have to be strictly private.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the family residence and interment took place in Evergreen cemetery. The many friends of the family extend sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Baker in this dark hour.

BREATHES HER LAST IN FATHER'S ARMS.

Sudden Demise of Little Margaretta Baker Casts a Gloom Over City.

One of the saddest deaths in some time occurred yesterday morning about 7:30 o'clock when Margaretta Baker, the nine-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker, passed away very suddenly and without warning in her father's arms.

The little girl had complained some Saturday evening, but the parents of the child did not think there was anything serious the matter and as she felt all right at bed time no doctor was called. About 7:15 Sunday morning she awoke and came to her father, complaining that she felt badly. Mr. Baker, who is particularly enamored with the little girl, picked her up in his arms with affectionate solicitude, not thinking even then that there was anything the matter. He had no more than nestled her to his bosom when the little one gave a gasp and reclining her head backward on his arm breathed her last.

Mr. Baker was completely overcome with the sudden shock and swooned away himself. A physician was at once summoned, and so overcome was the father that it was nearly two hours before he regained consciousness. Realizing that nothing could be done for the little girl the attention of the physician was directed to Mr. Baker. For a time it was thought that he would not recover, but he came to finally and this morning, although still very much grieved and overcome, was feeling some better.

The attending physician states that it was heart failure coupled with symptoms of diphtheria, which caused the death. It is a very sad case, Margaretta being a particularly bright child. All day Saturday she was in the best of spirits and showed no sign of sickness and it was not until the young life passed out that the seriousness of the situation was realized. ## FERVENT PRAYER FOR PRESIDENT.

Rev. Roderick J. Mooney Delivers a Special Discourse on the Subject.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND'S LETTER.

All Classes in the City Anxiously Await Announcements
from Bedside.

In most of the churches of the city yesterday fervent prayers were offered up to the Almighty asking that in this hour of gloom, through which these United States is passing, he place his soothing hand upon the brow of the beloved President McKinley and restore him once more to health.

In some of the churches special discourses were preached and in the Congregational church Rev. M. L. Hutton, read a late bulletin giving the status of the condition of the president.

Rev. Roderick J. Mooney gave an address last evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church on the "Assassination of President McKinley." He took as his text, "They sow the wind and reap the whirlwind." Hosea 8th chapter and 7th verse. It was an impromptu address but was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. He said that God worked by a specific law and performed his wonderful deeds: that the flower grows from the seed by the same law. The laws were not only the same but the effect was the same. He went on to show the discrimination between liberty and the license of speech.

"If the clergymen in a city," he said, "would have the impudence to tell something about the actual facts which exist they would be driven from the city, but on the other hand an anarchist can step in and insult God and the flag for which fathers and sons of this country have fought. To them, to quote one of their own number, it is, 'down with the flag of the stars and stripes and up with the red flag of anarchy.'"

"If you allow that thing to exist the logical outcome must be expected. In this case the victim of the assassin was one of the most noble characters that has ever graced the presidential chair, a devout christian, a patriotic citizen and a splendid statesman, assailed by a man who coolly and deliberately planned the details of the crime and cunning required to murder this man. It was not the fault of the assailant that he did not kill the president. God in his providence, we hope and pray, will protect our honored president.

"The circumstance appeals to every citizen. We have patted the men of the kind who committed this deed too freely on the back, making them to understand that they are good fellows; and we as citizens of the United States are to blame in a degree for the state of affairs which exist. If we had a correct sense of our relations with God and our country we would see to it that we had men in office who would legislate against the admission of such crime in our midst. To this end we want to live according to the ten commandments."

The speaker then rehearsed the history of the sturdy work of the pilgrim fathers and drew lessons from their lives. It was a very strong and eloquent address throughout.

Prayer for the recovery of the president was directed by Archbishop Ireland in a letter sent to all the priests in the diocese of St. Paul. The archbishop's letter was read yesterday in the churches. It follows:

"Rev. Dear Father: A horrible crime has been committed in our country. The life of the chief magistrate of the nation has been assailed; the majesty of the nation has been outraged; the fabric of civil society has been imperiled.

"It behooves the Christian people of America to bow their heads before the Almighty Ruler of men, in profound humiliation and earnest supplication.

"Have we, as a people, through pride and self-trusting, through forgetfulness of the laws of religion and of righteousness, merited that this dreadful visitation should have come upon the land? God knows and God judges. As the penitent Israel of olden days gathered 'between the porch and the air,' let us weep and say: 'Spare O Lord, spare thy people; and give not thy inheritance to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. Why should they say among the nations; 'Where is their God? For our own, and the nation's welfare in coming years, our dependency must be upon the great and good Lord, who is our heavenly Father?"

"Only through Him, who reigns amid the tempests and the billows of the seas, can peace and security be our possession; only through Him, who is 'the Father of lights,' from whom is 'every perfect gift,' can there be given to us the intelligence of duty and the strength to accomplish it; let us in fervor of heart invoke His blessed name, and by prayer draw down upon ourselves and upon the nation His most bountiful graces.

"And with especial fervor must we supplicate the God of mercy and of love for the chief magistrate of the nation. Upon him the wrath of crime, heavily fell; the sympathies of our souls go out to him, and our heartfelt entreaties ascend to the skies for his comfort and his recovery. May the Master have him in holy keeping, granting him patient courage amid present sufferings, and speedily restoring him to the joys of health, that he may with renewed strength again consecrate himself to the services of his country and of his fellow men!"

"To these ends, we ordain that all pastors do, in their churches, tomorrow, before the principal mass, recite together with the faithful, the psalm, 'Have mercy on me, O God!' as an act of penitential reparation, for sins personal and national; and the Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus, as an invocation to heaven for an outpouring of divine grace, and, in an especial manner, for the return to health of the president of the republic."

"John Ireland,
Archbishop of St. Paul."

WOUND NOT SERIOUS.

Publisher of Minneapolis Tribune Accidentally Shot While Hunting Near Cass Lake.

W. J. Murphy, publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was accidentally shot while hunting Friday at Lake Winnibigoshik, arrived in Minneapolis yesterday morning. The injured man was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where Dr. J. H. Dunn is attending to him. It is impossible to predict the outcome of the injury. The right hand was badly lacerated by the buckshot and it is probable the thumb will have to be amputated. But the real seat of trouble is at the arm-pit, where several large blood-vessels are laid as bare as if they had been dissected.

A sad feature of the affair is the fact that Mrs. Murphy, while an eyewitness of her husband's mishap, has been in ignorance of the real nature of the injuries. Mr. Murphy was brought to Minneapolis in a special train, arriving in the city about 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Murphy was expected last night. She was on a houseboat and her husband was on a steam launch less than a hundred feet away at the time of the accident. The boats were about eighteen miles from Cass Lake.

Mrs. Murphy was attracted by the discharge of the shotgun and saw her husband was injured. Fearing that the injured man might bleed to death, and without waiting to consult Mrs. Murphy, the captain of the steam launch put off with all possible speed to Cass Lake, where a physician was secured.

Telegrams sent yesterday did not reach Mrs. Murphy, and she was in ignorance of the real nature of the injury until she reached Minneapolis.

REV. R. J. MOONEY RESIGNS RECTORSHIP.

His Resignation is Read Immediately After the Service Last Night.

RETIRE FOR TWO YEARS.

Accepts Position As Special Agent for Northwestern L. & S.
Association.

Rev. Roderick J. Mooney, rector of St. Pauls Episcopal church, sprung a surprise on his congregation yesterday morning by reading his resignation immediately after the service. It came as a very sudden surprise to many as they had no idea of such a thought in the rector's mind.

Rev. Mooney has been for ten years actively engaged in the work of the ministry and this morning he stated to a representative of THE DISPATCH that he needed a rest. He does not intend for two years, at least, to do any work in the ministerial line, but he will retain his parchment and credentials as of yore. He has for the time being accepted a position as special agent for the Northwestern Life and Savings Company of Des Moines, Ia., and will travel on the road. For the time being he will make Brainerd his headquarters but definite plans for their home will be made by Mr. and Mrs. Mooney later.

Since coming to Brainerd, about two years ago, Rev. Mr. Mooney has been very active and as a result there are many improvements to his credit. The new rectory has been built and many other improvements have been made about the church property.

The resignation will not take effect until the first of next month. It is expected that a meeting of the vestrymen of the church will be held some time this week to take action on the matter.

The reverend gentleman is one of the most eloquent pulpiter orators in the city and his Sunday discourses will be greatly missed. He stated this morning that he decided to resign after he and Mrs. Mooney had given the matter serious thought. It was not without due deliberation and he feels that the time has come when he needs a vacation and rest.

OFF FOR BUFFALO

Company F. Given A Hearty Farewell At Northern Pacific Depot Yesterday Afternoon

There was an unusually large crowd at the Northern Pacific depot yesterday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock, the gathering being composed mostly of relatives and friends of the members of Company F., who left on the 1:10 train for Duluth, from whence they go to Buffalo to take in the Pan-American exposition.

The boys looked very swell in their new khaki uniforms and they were a merry collection of young men. Captain Adair seemed to feel proud of the boys and he had a just right to the feeling. The company expects to be gone about ten days and it is thought that by that time every member of the company will have had his fill of the exposition and the sights about Buffalo.

At Duluth the boys will be joined by the members of C company and the two companies will make the trip together. Instead of taking the boat at Duluth the trip will be made overland from Duluth via the D. S. & A. Ry as far as the Soo. From there the balance of the trip will be made by boat. The boys will see some great country between Duluth and the Soo and the trip from there on by boat is very pleasant.

There were thirty men in the company as it left the city yesterday. Many of the boys who expected to go failed to make arrangements at the last minute and the full number of forty men could not be secured. The boys were equipped with gun and knapsack with the regular light marching accoutrement.

The boys will probably go into camp at Buffalo but in all likelihood the army camp regulations will not be enforced to any great extent.

NOTES OF THE RAILWAYS

Interesting Statistics of the Mileage in United States.

NEW HUES FOR LINE DYED YELLOW

Officials Will No Longer Bow to the Taste of H. B. Plant's Widow—Atlantic Coast Line's New Rule—Our Locomotives Again Lead—Railroad Building in Oklahoma.

The total mileage of railways in the United States at the end of the fiscal year 1900 was 193,345, an increase of 4,051 in the twelve months immediately following July 1, 1899, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Sun. In 1890 the railway mileage of the country was 163,597, and the gain in the following ten years was therefore 29,748 miles. The 1890 record of mileage does not include the railroads of Alaska, which are about twenty-two miles in length. These are the figures of the interstate commerce commission, whose annual report has just been completed. Other statistics given in the report are:

The number of miles of railroad to square miles of territory, not including Alaska or insular possessions, in 1900 was 6.51, and the number of miles per 10,000 inhabitants was 25.44. The mileage has not increased quite as rapidly as the population, for there were 25.99 miles of road for every 10,000 inhabitants in 1890. The mileage per square mile, however, was only 5.51 in 1890.

The greatest railway mileage last year was in Illinois, 11,002 miles. Pennsylvania was second, with 10,330 miles; Texas third, with 9,880; Iowa fourth, with 9,185, and New York fifth, with 8,121. The number of men employed on railroads last year was 1,017,653 as against 749,301 in 1890, this being 529 employees for each 100 miles of line as against 479 ten years before. No attempt is made to set a valuation on railroad property, but it is shown that the railway capital invested amounted in 1900 to $5,045,493,367 as against $4,574,576,131 in 1890 and $5,518,943,172 in 1899. These figures measure in no sense the value of the property.

The total number of persons killed during the fiscal year covered by the report was 7,965; the total number injured, 59,320. The number of employees killed during the year was 2,550 and the number injured 39,613. The number of passengers killed during the year was 249 and the number injured 4,128. This leaves assigned to "other persons" a total of 5,066 killed and 6,549 injured. From these statements it appears that the number of casualties during the year exceeds the casualties for any previous year for which the interstate commerce commission has record.

FERVENT PRAYER FOR PRESIDENT.

Rev. Roderick J. Mooney Delivers
a Special Discourse on
the Subject.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND'S LETTER.

All Classes in the City Anxiously
from Bedside.

In most of the churches of the city yesterday fervent prayers were offered up to the Almighty asking that in this hour of gloom, through which these United States is passing, he place his soothing hand upon the brow of the beloved President McKinley and restore him once more to health.

In some of the churches special discourses were preached and in the Congregational church Rev. M. L. Hutton, read a late bulletin giving the status of the condition of the president.

Rev. Roderick J. Mooney gave an address last evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church on the "Assassination of President McKinley." He took as his text, "They sow the wind and reap the whirlwind." Hosea 8th chapter and 7th verse. It was an impromptu address but was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. He said that God worked by a specific law and performed his wonderful deeds: that the flower grows from the seed by the same law. The laws were not only the same but the effect was the same. He went on to show the discrimination between liberty and the license of speech.

"If the clergymen in a city," he said, "would have the impudence to tell something about the actual facts which exist they would be driven from the city, but on the other hand an anarchist can step in and insult God and the flag for which fathers and sons of this country have fought. To them, to quote one of their own number, it is, 'down with the flag of the stars and stripes and up with the red flag of anarchy.'"

"If you allow that thing to exist the logical outcome must be expected. In this case the victim of the assassin was one of the most noble characters that has ever graced the presidential chair, a devout christian, a patriotic citizen and a splendid statesman, assailed by a man who coolly and deliberately planned the details of the crime and cunning required to murder this man. It was not the fault of the assailant that he did not kill the president. God in his providence, we hope and pray, will protect our honored president.

"The circumstance appeals to every citizen. We have patted the men of the kind who committed this deed too freely on the back, making them to understand that they are good fellows; and we as citizens of the United States are to blame in a degree for the state of affairs which exist. If we had a correct sense of our relations with God and our country we would see to it that we had men in office who would legislate against the admission of such crime in our midst. To this end we want to live according to the ten commandments."

The speaker then rehearsed the history of the sturdy work of the pilgrim fathers and drew lessons from their lives. It was a very strong and eloquent address throughout.

Prayer for the recovery of the president was directed by Archbishop Ireland in a letter sent to all the priests in the diocese of St. Paul. The archbishop's letter was read yesterday in the churches. It follows:

"Rev. Dear Father: A horrible crime has been committed in our country. The life of the chief magistrate of the nation has been assailed; the majesty of the nation has been outraged; the fabric of civil society has been imperiled.

"It behooves the Christian people of America to bow their heads before the Almighty Ruler of men, in profound humiliation and earnest supplication.

"Have we, as a people, through pride and self-trusting, through forgetfulness of the laws of religion and of righteousness, merited that this dreadful visitation should have come upon the land? God knows and God judges. As the penitent Israel of olden days gathered 'between the porch and the air,' let us weep and say: 'Spare O Lord, spare thy people; and give not thy inheritance to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. Why should they say among the nations: 'Where is

"Only through Him, who reigns amid the tempests and the billows of the seas, can peace and security be our possession; only through Him, who is 'the Father of lights,' from whom is 'every perfect gift,' can there be given to us the intelligence of duty and the strength to accomplish it; let us in fervor of heart invoke His blessed name, and by prayer draw down upon ourselves and upon the nation His most bountiful graces.

"And with especial fervor must we supplicate the God of mercy and of love for the chief magistrate of the nation. Upon him the wrath of crime, heavily fell; the sympathies of our souls go out to him, and our heartfelt entreaties ascend to the skies for his comfort and his recovery. May the Master have him in holy keeping, granting him patient courage amid present sufferings, and speedily restoring him to the joys of health, that he may with renewed strength again consecrate himself to the services of his country and of his fellow men!

"To these ends, we ordain that all pastors do, in their churches, tomorrow, before the principal mass, recite together with the faithful, the psalm, 'Have mercy on me, O God!' as an act of penitential reparation, for sins personal and national; and the Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus, as an invocation to heaven for an outpouring of divine grace, and, in an especial manner, for the return to health of the president of the republic.

"John Ireland,

Interesting Statistics of the Mileage in United States.

NEW HUES FOR LINE DYED YELLOW

Officials Will No Longer Bow to the Taste of H. B. Plant's Widow—Atlantic Coast Line's New Rule—Our Locomotives Again Lead—Railroad Building in Oklahoma.

The total mileage of railways in the United States at the end of the fiscal year 1900 was 193,345, an increase of 4,061 in the twelve months immediately following July 1, 1890, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Sun. In 1890 the railway mileage of the country was 163,597, and the gain in the following ten years was therefore 29,748 miles. The 1890 record of mileage does not include the railroads of Alaska, which are about twenty-two miles in length. These are the figures of the interstate commerce commission, whose annual report has just been completed. Other statistics given in the report are:

The number of miles of railroad to square miles of territory, not including Alaska or insular possessions, in 1900 was 6.51, and the number of miles per 10,000 inhabitants was 25.44. The mileage has not increased quite as rapidly as the population, for there were 25.99 miles of road for every 10,000 inhabitants in 1890. The mileage per square mile, however, was only 5.51 in 1890.

The greatest railway mileage last year was in Illinois, 11,002 miles. Pennsylvania was second, with 10,330 miles; Texas third, with 9,889; Iowa fourth, with 9,185, and New York fifth, with 8,121. The number of men employed on railroads last year was 1,017,653 as against 749,301 in 1890, this being 529 employees for each 100 miles of line as against 479 ten years before. No attempt is made to set a valuation on railroad property, but it is shown that the railway capital invested amounted in 1900 to $5,645,463, 367 as against $4,574,576,131 in 1890 and $3,518,943,172 in 1880. These figures measure in no sense the value of the property.

The total number of persons killed during the fiscal year covered by the report was 7,965; the total number injured, 50,320. The number of employees killed during the year was 2,550 and the number injured 39,643. The number of passengers killed during the year was 249 and the number injured 4,128. This leaves assigned to "other persons" a total of 5,006 killed and 6,549 injured. From these statements it appears that the number of casualties during the year exceeds the casualties for any previous year for which the interstate commerce commission has record.

CABINET READY TO ACT

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF HAY AND LONG ALL ARE AT BUFFALO.

ONLY IN AN EMERGENCY

Roosevelt Will Not Be Called Upon to Act as President Unless Grave International Complications Should Arise—Everything Possible Being Done to Prevent the Sensational Exploitation of the Assassination of McKinley.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—All of the members of the cabinet are now here except Secretaries Hay and Long. Both are expected soon. The cabinet officers feel it to be their duty to be here in this crisis to meet any emergency. They are holding no formal meetings, although there are some matters of public business which they daily discuss informally and the possible contingencies should the president grow worse are also thoroughly canvassed. They do not believe that there is the most remote possibility that Vice President Roosevelt will be called upon to exercise the functions of chief magistrate under the disability clause of the Constitution while the president lives. Vice President Roosevelt would not hear of such a course. Still, in the event of grave international complications, an emergency might occur and the question has arisen in their minds as to who should proclaim the disability provided for by the Constitution. That instrument is silent upon the subject. There is no precedent to follow. During the protracted illness of President Garfield before his death Vice President Arthur was not called upon to act. The consensus of opinion among the members of the cabinet is that should the occasion arise they themselves would have to decide and proclaim the existence of the disability.

The members of the cabinet are doing everything in their power to prevent the sensational exploitation of McKinley, because he undoubtedly craves notoriety and because his fellow anarchists throughout the country love it. They do not desire to place any stone in the path of the authorities who are laboring to unravel the plot, if any plot existed, and all the resources of the government secret service will be used to aid the state investigation. But by the direct request of Secretary Root, on behalf of his colleagues, the district attorney and the police will not permit the prisoner to be seen or interviewed, nor will they discuss the methods or the results of their efforts to discover the originators of the plot. All that has leaked out from the jail shows that the prisoner is vain and boastful of his crime and would, if given an opportunity, fill the newspapers with columns of his vapors.

RESOLUTION DEFEATED.

Chicago Socialists Refuse to Express Regret for McKinley's Shooting.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Two thousand members of the Socialist party voted down a resolution of regret for the attempted assassination of the president at a meeting in Bergman's grove, Riverside. The argument of those opposed to the resolution was that McKinley is the representative of the capitalist class and that his safety or danger are matters of no concern to Socialists.

The resolution was introduced by the chairman of the meeting, Wilmont I. Goodspeed, and was designed to counteract the tendency of some people to place anarchists and socialists in the same class. Incidentally, expression was made of the pain of Socialists, in common with other citizens, at the attempted assassination. This was regarded by many present as a letting down of the barrier of hatred which separates the capitalists from the common people, and they defeated it.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

Eleven Alleged Anarchists Held by the Chicago Police.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—If any further proof was needed that Leon Czolgosz was the guest of Chicago anarchists shortly before he went to Buffalo on his murderous mission against President McKinley, it was supplied by three of the prisoners at the central police station. They identified a photograph of the murderous "red" as a picture of a man whom they saw at the home of Abraham Isaak, 515 Carroll avenue, not longer ago than July 12.

Eleven men and women who are avowed anarchists were formally booked on the charge of conspiracy to commit murder. They will be taken before Justice Prindle in the morning for a hearing. It is settled practically that the prosecution will ask for a continuance of 10 days that the police may have more time for an investigation.

RODE ON A RAIL.

Villifier of President McKinley Punished in Nebraska.

Minneapolis, Sept. 9.—A special to The Times from Omaha says: The congregation of the Presbyterian church at Fairmont, Neb., postponed its service until it had administered punishment to a villifier of President McKinley, who expressed his view on the church verganda that McKinley had reaped the legitimate fruits of his encouragement of trusts and the money power. A crowd of young men thereupon ducked him in a neighboring pond, and setting him astride a rail, carried him out into the country. He was dumped into a thicket and warned not to return. When the vigilants had returned from their task services were begun more than an hour later than usual.

DEMAND A SETTLEMENT.

Amalgamated Executive Board Wants Shaffer to End Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 9.—While the members of the executive board of the Amalgamated Association did not say so, it was intimated by those in close touch with them that they had plainly told President Shaffer that a settlement of the strike was imperative and that he must put himself into communication with President Schwab and have a plain understanding at once. In other words, the executive board of the Amalgamated Association is pushing the leader for a settlement and to end the battle. It was believed that Mr. Shaffer had either gone to Mr. Schwab's summer home at Lorette or was meeting him in New York. Leaders are making strenuous efforts to hold the men in line with the hope that some means of settlement will come in a few days at the furthest. If it fails, the men, it is believed, will break away and return to work as individuals. That would be worse than the terms that have thus far been offered by the corporation. At the same time the delay that has occurred and is still going on under the terms of offered is telling more severely than ever against the strikers and their organization.

OLD GUARD ASSEMBLES.

Grand Army Veterans Take Possession of Cleveland.

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—The city of Cleveland is in the hands of the veteran soldiery of the Grand Army of the Republic. The land and naval forces have taken possession of the Forest City and its streets are thronged with delegates and visiting strangers. In the harbor off the city lies the training ship Yantic of the Michigan naval militia and the United States gunboat Michigan, together with the Hawk, the training ship of the Cleveland reserves. Before noon a number of posts had been assigned to quarters and a steady influx of delegates, members and visiting strangers.

The greatest interest still centers on the condition of the president, but the encouraging bulletins of the evening have had a most decided effect of lightening the spirits of the thousands who parade the streets and the crowd in public centers.

The executive committee has requested Senator Hanna and Colonel Herriek, jointly, to invite Vice President Roosevelt and as many of the members of the cabinet as may be able to visit the encampment Thursday.

ANGELES COMES IN.

Insurgent Leader and Sixty Followers Surrender in the Camarines.

Manila, Sept. 9.—The insurgent leader, Angeles, has surrendered in the Camarines with 19 officers, 42 men, a number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition. Numbers of other small surrenders occur daily. The only active forces operating now with any number of men are those of Malver and Lukban. The capture or surrender of the former is expected at any time. The latter, the Filipinos believe, will hold out as long as he is able to get ammunition. His brother, a doctor in Manila, says Lukban will never surrender.

Genuine anxiety is felt by everybody here regarding the condition of President McKinley.

NO SERIOUS RESULTS.

New York, Sept. 9.—Wall street suffered one of the severest shocks in its history as the result of the attempted assassination of the president.

But contrary to expectations the result is not so disastrous as might have been expected, and so far it has effected no serious result.

The general stock list opened at prices varying from one and one-half points to five and one-half points lower. The heaviest decline was noticeable in the industrials. Tennessee Coal and Iron closed at 66 1/2 and the opening figure was 61. Other marked declines were: Missouri Pacific, 5 points; St. Paul, 4 1/2 points; steels, from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 points.

WILL GET OFF EASILY.

Should President Recover Czolgosz Can Get but Ten Years.

New York, Sept. 9.—President McKinley's recovery would mean that his would-be assassin could be confined in prison for 10 years, the maximum penalty under the penal code of New York state. Two methods of procedure could be adopted. The prisoner could be arraigned before a justice of Erie county and he could demand an examination and would have the right to counsel and time to prepare his defense. The prisoner could waive these formalities and elect to go before the grand jury of Erie county. The grand jury could then find an indictment for

MacArthur's Reception Abandoned.

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—The public reception, military parade and banquet to be tendered to Major General Arthur MacArthur by the citizens of Milwaukee has been abandoned. This is done at the earnest request of the general himself and is occasioned by the great calamity with which the country is now threatened by the attempted assassination of the president.

Diplomats Return to Washington.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The special train carrying the diplomatic representatives has returned to Washington from Buffalo. Naturally the distinguished guests of the exposition were depressed at the unhappy events attending the president's visit, but they spoke in encouraging terms of the exposition itself and of the courtesies they had received.

Anniversary of Galveston's Storm.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 9.—The first anniversary of the great storm was appropriately observed in Galveston with public memorial services on the beach at the foot of Broadway. The services were held under the auspices of the Women's Health Protective association and were attended by about 1,000 people.

VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK.

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—The Bay View meeting after a stormy session broke up in a row. The radical element left the hall and the remaining members, not quite half of those in attendance, voted to return to work and will do so in the morning when the mills start up.

The question of returning to work was debated at length and after every member had had his say President Joseph D. Redfern ordered a secret ballot to be taken, whereupon the radical element left the lodge in a body. The radicals slightly outnumbered the conservatives. Those remaining in the lodge then voted unanimously to return to work.

Those who voted to return to work are made up mostly of married men who have worked at the Bay View mills for many years, owning their homes and having families to support.

VENEZUELAN AT WORK.

Warships Engaged in Bombarding a Colombian Town.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Colombian legation has just received the following cablegram from Dr. Becerra: "Venezuelan fleet is bombarding Rio Hacha."

Dr. Becerra formerly was Colombian minister in Washington.

Rio Hacha is an important town on the north coast of Colombia.

This bombardment appears to be the first open act of the war. The Colombian legation is in receipt of a dispatch from the minister of foreign affairs at Bogota which says that new invasions from Venezuela, Ecuador and Nicaragua are announced. The minister declares that Colombia continues to be pacific and strictly neutral and that Colombia condemns the rebel invasion of Garbiras into Venezuela.

Glad He Did Not Kill Him.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Major Sylvester, superintendent of police, has received the following telegram from Chief of Police Bull of Buffalo: "Czolgosz is an anarchist; says it was his duty, but is now glad he did not kill the president; plot was made in the West; think prisoner lying and stubborn."

Kaiser Orders Hourly Reports.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—Emperor William has ordered that reports of President McKinley's condition be wired him hourly. The new Chinese minister to Germany was among the callers at the United States embassy to inquire regarding President McKinley's condition.

Queen Regent Sends Sympathy.

Madrid, Sept. 9.—Queen Regent Christina has wired President McKinley an expression of her indignation at the outrage and her best wishes for his happy and speedy recovery.

The argument of those opposed to the resolution was that McKinley is the representative of the capitalist class and that his safety or danger are matters of no concern to Socialists.

The resolution was introduced by the chairman of the meeting, Wilmut I. Goodspeed, and was designed to counteract the tendency of some people to place anarchists and socialists in the same class. Incidentally, expression was made of the pain of Socialists, in common with other citizens, at the attempted assassination. This was regarded by many present as a letting down of the barrier of hatred which separates the capitalists from the common people, and they defeated it.

Eleven Alleged Anarchists Held by the Chicago Police.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—If any further proof was needed that Leon Czolgosz was the guest of Chicago anarchists shortly before he went to Buffalo on his murderous mission against President McKinley it was supplied by three of the prisoners at the central police station. They identified a photograph of the murderous "red" as a picture of a man whom they saw at the home of Abraham Isaak, 515 Carroll avenue, not longer ago than July 12.

Eleven men and women who are avowed anarchists were formally booked on the charge of conspiracy to commit murder. They will be taken before Justice Prindiville in the morning for a hearing. It is settled practically that the prosecution will ask for a continuance of 10 days that the police may have more time for an investigation.

RODE ON A RAIL.

Villifier of President McKinley Punished in Nebraska.

Minneapolis, Sept. 9.—A special to The Times from Omaha says: The congregation of the Presbyterian church at Fairmont, Neb., postponed its service until it had administered punishment to a villifier of President McKinley, who expressed his view on the church verganda that McKinley had reaped the legitimate fruits of his encouragement of trusts and the money power. A crowd of young men thereupon ducked him in a neighboring pond, and setting him astride a rail, carried him out into the country. He was dumped into a thicket and warned not to return. When the vigilants had returned from their task services were begun—more than an hour later than usual.

Amalgamated Executive Board Wants Shaffer to End Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 9.—While the members of the executive board of the Amalgamated Association did not say so, it was intimated by those in close touch with them that they had plainly told President Shaffer that a settlement of the strike was imperative and that he must put himself into communication with President Schwab and have a plain understanding at once. In other words, the executive board of the Amalgamated Association is pushing the leader for a settlement and to end the battle. It was believed that Mr. Shaffer had either gone to Mr. Schwab's summer home at Lorette or was meeting him in New York. Leaders are making strenuous efforts to hold the men in line with the hope that some means of settlement will come in a few days at the furthest. If it fails, the men, it is believed, will break away and return to work as individuals. That would be worse than the terms that have thus far been offered by the corporation. At the same time the delay that has occurred and is still going on under the terms offered is telling more severely than ever against the strikers and their organization.

Grand Army Veterans Take Possession of Cleveland.

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—The city of Cleveland is in the hands of the veteran soldiery of the Grand Army of the Republic. The land army naval forces have taken possession of the Forest City and its streets are thronged with delegates and visiting strangers.

In the harbor off the city lies the training ship Yantic of the Michigan naval militia and the United States gunboat Michigan, together with the Hawk, the training ship of the Cleveland reserves. Before noon a number of posts had been assigned to quarters and a steady influx of delegates, members and visiting strangers.

The greatest interest still centers on the condition of the president, but the encouraging bulletins of the evening have had a most decided effect of lightening the spirits of the thousands who parade the streets and the crowd in public centers.

The executive committee has requested Senator Hanna and Colonel Herrick, jointly, to invite Vice President Roosevelt and as many of the members of the cabinet as may be able to visit the encampment Thursday.

Insurgent Leader and Sixty Followers Surrender in the Camarines.

Manila, Sept. 9.—The insurgent leader, Angeles, has surrendered in the Camarines with 19 officers, 42 men, a number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition. Numbers of other small surrenders occur daily. The only active forces operating now with any number of men are those of Malver and Lukban. The capture or surrender of the former is expected any time. The latter, the Filipinos believe, will hold out as long as he is able to get ammunition. His brother, a doctor in Manila, says Lukban will never surrender.

Genuine anxiety is felt by everybody here regarding the condition of President McKinley.

New York, Sept. 9.—Wall street suffered one of the severest shocks in its history as the result of the attempted assassination of the president. But contrary to expectations the result is not so disastrous as might have been expected, and so far it has effected no serious result.

The general stock list opened at prices varying from one and one-half points to five and one-half points lower. The heaviest decline was noticeable in the industrials. Tennessee Coal and Iron closed at 66 1/2 and the opening figure was 61. Other marked declines were: Missouri Pacific, 5 points; St. Paul, 4 1/2 points; steels, from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 points.

Should President Recover Czolgosz Can Get Ten Years.

New York, Sept. 9.—President McKinley's recovery would mean that his would-be assassin could be confined in prison for 10 years, the maximum penalty under the penal code of New York state. Two methods of procedure could be adopted. The prisoner could be arraigned before a justice of Erie county and he could demand an examination and would have the right to counsel and time to prepare his defense. The prisoner could waive these formalities and elect to go before the grand jury of Erie county. The grand jury could then find an indictment for

MacArthur's Reception Abandoned.

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—The public reception, military parade and banquet to be tendered to Major General Arthur MacArthur by the citizens of Milwaukee has been abandoned. This is done at the earnest request of the general himself and is occasioned by the great calamity with which the country is now threatened by the attempted assassination of the president.

Diplomats Return to Washington.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The special train carrying the diplomatic representatives has returned to Washington from Buffalo. Naturally the distinguished guests of the exposition were depressed at the unhappy events attending the president's visit, but they spoke in encouraging terms of the exposition itself and of the courtesies they had received.

Anniversary of Galveston's Storm.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 9.—The first anniversary of the great storm was appropriately observed in Galveston with public memorial services on the beach at the foot of Broadway. The services were held under the auspices of the Women's Health Protective association and were attended by about 1,000 people.

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—The Bay View meeting after a stormy session broke up in a row. The radical element left the hall and the remaining members, not quite half of those in attendance, voted to return to work and will do so in the morning when the mills start up.

The question of returning to work was debated at length and after every member had had his say President Joseph D. Redfern ordered a secret ballot to be taken, whereupon the radical element left the lodge in a body. The radicals slightly outnumbered the conservatives. Those remaining in the lodge then voted unanimously to return to work.

Those who voted to return to work are made up mostly of married men who have worked at the Bay View mills for many years, owning their homes and having families to support.

VENEZUELAN AT WORK.

Warships Engaged in Bombarding a Colombian Town.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Colombian legation has just received the following cablegram from Dr. Becerra: "Venezuelan fleet is bombarding Rio Hacha."

Dr. Becerra formerly was Colombian minister in Washington.

Rio Hacha is an important town on the north coast of Colombia.

This bombardment appears to be the first open act of the war. The Colombian legation is in receipt of a dispatch from the minister of foreign affairs at Bogota which says that new invasions from Venezuela, Ecuador and Nicaragua are announced. The minister declares that Colombia continues to be pacific and strictly neutral and that Colombia condemns the rebel invasion of Garbiras into Venezuela.

Glad He Did Not Kill Him.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Major Sylvester, superintendent of police, has received the following telegram from Chief of Police Bull of Buffalo: "Czolgosz is an anarchist; says it was his duty, but is now glad he did not kill the president; plot was made in the West; think prisoner lying and stubborn."
